

QUOTES FROM SCIENTISTS WHO BELIEVE IN GOD

Werner Heisenberg (1901–1976)

Field: Physics (Quantum Mechanics)

Belief: Christian theist

"Atheism is so senseless. When I look at the solar system, I see the Earth at the right distance from the Sun to receive the proper amounts of heat and light. This did not happen by chance."

Isaac Newton (1642–1727)

Field: Physics, Mathematics

Belief: Christian theist

"Atheism is so senseless. When I look at the solar system, I see the Earth at the right distance from the Sun to receive the proper amounts of heat and light. This did not happen by chance."

Francis Collins (1950–Present)

Field: Genetics, Medicine
(Director of the Human Genome Project)

Belief: Christian theist

"I find no conflict between being a rigorous scientist and a person who believes in a God who takes a personal interest in each one of us... I believe in the literal resurrection of Jesus Christ. This is the most important moment in human history."

Albert Einstein (1879–1955)

Field: Physics (Theory of Relativity)

Belief: Spiritual, but not traditionally Christian

"Everyone who is seriously involved in the pursuit of science becomes convinced that a spirit is manifest in the laws of the universe—a spirit vastly superior to that of man, and one in the face of which we with our modest powers must feel humble."

Antony Flew (1923–2010)

Field: Philosophy (atheist-turned-deist)

Belief: Deist

"The integrated complexity of the biological world is just inescapable... I now believe there is a God."

Michael Faraday (1791–1867)

Field: Physics, Chemistry (Electromagnetism)

Belief: Devout Christian

"Speculations? I have none. I am resting on certainties. I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day."
